

FY2023 Allocations Preparation Checklist

This checklist is designed to help you prepare for the Philadelphia EMA's Regional Allocation Process. If you follow all of these steps you will be prepared to participate in your region's allocations meeting. You can adapt this checklist to your needs. Not everyone will need to follow every step. People who have little or no experience with the Allocations process are encouraged to go through all the steps for the most meaningful participation.

Step 1. Register for your region's allocations meetings:

You need to register for both mandatory (Parts 1 & 2) meetings for your region to attend. Q&A for your region is optional.

Step 2. Learn the basics:

- Introduction to Allocations (PDF updated in 2021)
- Introduction to Allocations (video prepared in 2020)
- Introduction to Community Planning (video prepared in 2020)

Step 3. Review the allocations materials:

- 2022 Allocations Service Category Booklet
 - This booklet has information on service definitions, utilization, over/underspending, need, and more! This link will lead you to our Allocations materials page for both Core and Support Services under Ryan White Part A. Here, you can click through each service category individually or locate the PDF titled: 2022 Allocations Service Category Booklet to go through the entire booklet.
- Other Regional Funding for 2022 (PDF)
- Regional RW Part A 2022 Funding Pie Charts (PDF)

Step 4. Quiz yourself:

- Take the Allocations Preparation Self-Assessment

Step 5. Dig into the data:

- Look into the 2020 HIV Prevalence Data by Region (PDF)
- See this table with CSU, MMP, and Consumer Survey Data (PDF)
- Check out the DRAFT 2022 Consumer Survey Service Data—only from online responses (PDF)

Step 6. Prepare your own materials:

- Fill out the Allocations Worksheet (PDF) to prepare for your regional meeting.

Step 7. Understand your role:

- Read about Conflict of Interest (PDF) and how it may relate to you. Conflict of Interest is a characteristic of the nature of the Planning Body. A conflict of interest is an actual or perceived interest by a Planning Body member in an action which results in personal, professional, or organizational gain.
